REMARKS

This is UNEVALUATED Information

In August 1953, it was reported that the railroad bridge over the Elbe River near Usti had been [illegible] before January. 25X1

Comment. The destruction of this bridge was reported for the first time. Its reconstruction appears plausible because the bridge is on an important railroad line connecting the main railroad line running along the two banks of the Elbe River. The railroad bridge is located between Strekov and Usti. 25X1
